American Eagle Adds Nonstop Jet Service Between Charleston, S. C., and Miami International Airport

Charleston, S. C. - American Eagle has added nonstop jet service between Charleston International Airport (CHS) and Miami International Airport (MIA). Passengers will enjoy a comfortable flight on a 50-seat Embraer ERJ aircraft.

“We are excited about the new nonstop flight that American is adding to Miami International Airport. This new flight will benefit leisure and business travelers. Access to this international hub will make it more convenient for passengers to travel to and from south Florida and the Caribbean, as well as, Central and South America, and Mexico,” said David G. Jennings, Chairman of the Charleston County Aviation Authority.

“We’re delighted to expand our service to Charleston, offering our customers convenient connections through Miami to destinations throughout Florida, the Caribbean, the Bahamas and Latin America,” said Dawn White, Regional Managing Director – American Airlines State and Community Affairs. “With the significant military presence in the Charleston Area, this will provide even greater access for visitors to and from the Charleston Air Force Base, the Naval Weapons Station Charleston, as well as The Citadel Military College.”
